The Louisiana School for Math, Science, and the Arts has more than two dorms and a volleyball net. We acquired an excess of 60,000 square feet. Our building, originally constructed in 1938, was used by high school students in the surrounding areas. A few years ago Natchitoches High School and Central High School desegregated to form the recently built Natchitoches Central High School and this building fell into disrepair. When Dr. Alost and his associates combed the state for a potential campus, they found the unused building had distinct possibilities. After months of extensive rennovations, the Old Natchitoches High School opened its doors to its first complete roll of LSMSA students in the fall of 1984.

What would the Louisiana School be like without Dr. Robert "Bobby" Alost?

The answer is obvious: It wouldn't be.

Bobby Alost had a dream that, unlike so many dreams, came true. He created the Louisiana School for Math, Science and the Arts- and in so doing changed, and will continue to change, the lives of some of Louisiana's leading scholars and artists.

We all owe Dr. Alost an intangible something for our experience here; a debt that will increase as we leave LSMSA and realize the great benefit it was to us. Never again will we be so closely associated with faculty, staff, or classmates. LSMSA is a family; a difference people may overlook, a difference that sets us apart.

News Release (Natchitoches, Jan. 13, 1985) -

Dr. Robert Alost, director of the Louisiana School, celebrated his birthday today. He was 50 years old, and the proud father of 400. He is expecting 200 more next year. And the year after that. And the year . . .

This yearbook is dedicated to Dr. Robert Alost, who has more faith in us than we have in ourselves.

Whatever We Imagine

Don't be afraid
I can meet you halfway
We can't always know
Where the road ends up
But with some luck
I know we can go
Wherever we imagine

Why should we wait
It'll only be too late
Cause where can we run
When you see there's half a chance
That we might Really become
Whatever we imagine

And I imagine
You and me
Just taking shots at what we see
And if we fall
Then shake away the dust
And just outlast them all

You ought to see
All your heros in me
But if we get wise
We can break the walls
We make
And you can see in my eyes
Whatever we imagine

And I imagine
You and me
Just taking shots at what we
see
So let the walls go down
And we can
Try it again
Cause nobody can
Stop us now

Don't be afraid
Cause I'll meet you halfway
You're not far behind
If we climb this hill
I know there's still
A chance we can find
Whatever we imagine
In our minds

CORNERSTONES

On Labor Day of 1983, the Louisiana School for Math, Science, and the Arts opened its doors to a special group of people — the class of 1985. They experienced the mistakes, restrictions, and disappointments that accompanied the program in its first year. Despite the difficulties — inadequate dormitory security, makeshift cafeteria facilities (the South wing of Bossier Hall), limited classroom and office space (the first floor of Prudhomme Hall), and everyone's favorite rule-a-day program — these juniors persevered to earn their status as seniors. Through the hardships of living away from home with nothing better to do on a Saturday night than walk to Burger King and be verbally abused by Bud-drinking rednecks driving pick-up trucks sporting Rebel flags and mud tires, they grew together and formed a family, turning two dorms, a volleyball net, and 4,800 badminton birdies into a home. Our first class, the Seniors of 1985, laid the foundation and formed the cornerstone for the only public residential high school for math, science, humanities, and the fine arts in the United States.

SENIOR COMMENTS

Elizabeth Lei Albritton- I'll teach U 2 laugh but not 2 cry, I'll teach U 2 trust me when U think I lie, I'll teach U 2 love me until we die. -Prince

David Anderson- And if you listen very hard the tune will come to you at last. -Led Zepplin

Mickie Andrepont- An idea can turn to dust or magic depending on the talent that rubs against it. W. Bernbach

Brian Avery- If wishes were beggars then horses would ride.

Katie Belko- To all my friends: When we're apart and you're partying, think of me. When I'm not there to help give 'em hell, you'll have to do it for me.

Melissa Belmon- Success is failure turned inside out so stick to the fight when you're hardest hit-It's when things seem worst that you mustn't quit.

Carla Boullion- Some people shove us violently into life, forever after . . . we feel the repercussions.

Mandy Brady- Fly my fellow Eagles — See you in the future skies!

Glenn Brannan- My time here at LSMSA has been great and I'm glad that I've been able to share it with the best friends anyone could have. It's been anything but a "season in hell." Please don't go tender years.

Tammy Brantley- If God be for us then who can be against us.

Patrick Breaux- After this, how hard can college be?

Tanya Broussard- I think of all the times I cursed out loud wishin' I was still runnin' with the same crowd; Sometimes it can make you cry just watching the years go by . . . -Rick Springfield.

Caprice Brown- Our time as LSMSA has ended, only to go on to new beginnings. The experiences that we have shared are as much a part of our education as the academics. You are all special to me and I'll miss you. Good luck to the first class of the La. School! I love ya'll.

David Brown- "God Bless America"

Dawn Brummett- I love you all and I'll miss ya. See you in ten years!!!

Philip Bryan- Everyone needs a Hug!

Marc Caplan- "i accept chaos. i am not sure whether it accepts me. i know there're some people terrified of the bomb, but there are other people terrified to be seen carrying a modern screen magazine. experience teaches that silence terrifies people the most . . ." -Bob Dylan

Clay Carroll- It's been real. It's been fun. But it hasn't been real fun!

Norma Catlin- Threesomes, prison, and failing classes. What else is there?? Profanity!

Kelly Cicet- LSMSA and the people associated with it will always have a special place in my heart.

Dina Constantin- Winners are losers who got up and gave it just one more try.- Dennis Deyoung

Michele Copeland- O eagle, pressed against the sky where is your path? What sign directs your eye? "My pathway is chartered from within. My creator also charts the wind. I follow paths unknown to men, but guided they are . . carefully . . to the end." Maureen Thompson

Russell Jory- Boo Boo, Eagle Scout, Scholar, Bowling Pin.

Yvette Kahrs- If you could hold just one day of now and remember it forever, through all your dawns and dusks and seasons giving way to seasons, there would always be a part of you the years could never change. -Jim Metcalf

Bertha Kao- . . Tackle the thing that cannot be done and you'll do it. -E.A. Guest Class of '85, we're going to go far. Have faith in yourselves. We're bonded together for life. My teachers, thanks for everything!

Mike Karageorge- God gives meaning to my victories and takes the sting from my defeats. Hey Fabe, George, never forget the good times we've had.

Craig Kelly- The mind is its own place, and in itself can make a Heaven of Hell, a Hell of Heaven. John Milton

Mike Landry- Wine loved I deeply, dice dearly; and in woman outparamoured the Turk. -W. Shakespeare Merrill Laurent- This school has been one of the most interesting and edifying experiences of my life. It's been great.

Allen LeBlanc- To those who have little self confidence- You shouldn't care what people think because most don't.

Michael Logan- If you're gonna do something, do it right!

Angela Lorio- I'm okay! Really I am.

LaVonya Malyeaux- Hey beautiful dreamers, you're different, go your own way . . come what may. But dream on.

Linda Markiewicz- Often, in the course of life, we are confronted by seemingly impossible tasks, yet we are always given the power to overcome them-It just may take more effort!

Gordon Marler- Anything is possible, except skiing through a revolving door; and any lab instrument dropped will roll into the least accessible corner-Wild Man

Jason McCrory- "In the sweetness of friendship let there be laughter, and sharing of pleasures. For in the dew of little things the heart finds its morning and is refreshed." -Kahlil Gibran

James McGuffee- Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.- Proverbs 3:13

Connie McMillan- But the moment passes. Sores may remain on your dog or your collar or your telephone receiver, but your soul has slid gently back into its place between the lower edge of your heart and the upper edge of your stomach, and all is at peace. -F.S. Fitzgerald

John McPhaul- Although we will go seperate ways, don't stop believing and keep in touch.

Suzanne Means- If one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and strives to live the life he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours-Thoreau

Maureen Mercadel- Mom always said there'd be days like this, but weeks . . months? It will be greater later!

Suzie Meshell- Any fool can make a rule, and it's only the fools that follow it! - Thoreau

Claire Moore- I'd like to share with all of you something I learned from a very close friend: Whenever you are lonely and miss your friends, look at the stars in the sky;

Somewhere one of the dear friends you've made at the La, School is seeing the same stars you are, and in those stars you'll be together again, if only for a short while. Remember, I love you, Srs. '85-ecm Miche' Moreau- Happiness comes only when we push our brains and hearts to the farthest reaches of which we are capable.

Dawn Nassar- The time to relax is when you don't have time for it. -S.J. Harris Ky Nguyen- Thank you very much for being my friends. The friendship from me to you will last forever. I love you.

Molora Nichols- Good luck everyone and God bless you.

Michele Norman- I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me.

Mandy Oakes- Recall, and go forward.

Karen Owens- Sapientiam qua didisti non vomas Tuam Sapientiam utaris.

Max Patin- I ask only four things- that you live, love, laugh, and lessen the evil in the world.

Libby Pellegrin- We're history! Here come the big times! Hey Caprice, are you ready to be tickled pink! Bye M.T. and C.B. Watch out Florida, Here I come!

Pam Ratcliff- We all have to make decisions; it's not whether we make the most popular decisions, but what's best.

Scott Reichmanis- To my partying Senior friends: when you think of a certain party our junior year, remember me and that I expect to be invited to one of yours sometime. Also, it is hard to believe that we have gone through four years of high school. But, am I glad we are through!!

Lenny Richoux- When you work you are a flute through whose heart the whispering of the hours turns to music. Which of you would be a reed, dumb and silent, when all else sings together in unison? Kahlil Gibran

Jodie Roberts- The La. School has really been a fantastic experience! I have learned a lot. I love all the great friends I have here. I'll miss all of you- Good Luck- Beak

Kate Rogers- I don't feel tardy!-Van Halen

Susie Rosenthal- Here when there's time to count the cost I keep measuring what I've lost, but when compared with what I've gained, I know I'd do it all over again- B. Roberts

Sharon Salinas- The things in life are irrelevant but it's very important that you do them-Ghandi

Tommy Schwartz- Let us not dwell on the past, for it cannot be changed; but instead, let us learn from our mistakes that we might shape a better future.

Marla Scott- Can't you see there's a chance for the daring young soul who's finally learned to say 'no'. 'No' I won't be misused, ignored, or abused. And I won't just give up and let go. So stay with me now, the future is ours, and will be the ones to go on. -Tommy Shaw Adrienne Sheffie- If you imagine it, you can achieve it. If you can dream it, you can be it.

Adam Shilling- The mind is not a vessel to be filled, but a flame to be kindled- Petarch

Chris Smith- Life is a one way street. No matter how many detours you take, none of them lead back. Isabel Moore

Kelly Stephens- A friend is another me.

Debbie Stringer- We all made a big decision in coming here I'm glad I made the decision! My friends and memories will be in my thoughts wherever I go and my life will always be changed because of them.

Stephanie Stringfellow- Every once in a while . .

Colleen Sullivan- Yes, I came here just to ride in retarded buses.

Earl Taylor- Hold on tight to your dreams. They will keep you going in rough times. Always shoot for the stars because even if you fall short you may just get the moon. It's been great folks.

Laura Taylor- . . And I haven't even started my applications.

Leila Taylor- We may well go to the moon, but that's not very far. The greatest distance we have to cover still lies within us- C. De Gaulle

Mark Teske- When all else fails, remember . . start drinking heavily-anonymous

Meade Love Thomas- You must mean the OTHER Meade Love . .

Steve Tolivar- __ it!

Stevie Trahan- I can honestly say that these two years have by far been the best in my life. The people I've met-the many times we laughed and cried together-and the many lifelong friendships we've developed. I wish everyone the best of luck in the future. I love all of you.

Troung Van- These two years in this school are so valuable to me. They are not only so special but also full of all kinds of love.

John Veuleman- We've learned a lot and grown academically these two years. However, we shared something much more special. You are my friends and family. It was better than awesome.

Heleah Vicknair- Don't take life too seriously. You'll never get out of it alive.

Tam Voung- Have a good outlook on your life because its only going to be as good as you perceive it to be.

Rebecca Wallace- it had its moments.

Alan Walter- "I could almost swear Mr. Powell had those RPI forms a minute ago!"

Scott West- You're a whimp!

Will West- Noli dicere omnia quae scis; Noli credere omni a qurie audis; Noli scriptere omnia quae facis; Noli facere omnia quae potis.- anonymous

Tedra Wilkins- We complained about almost everything, but we complained as one. We stayed up all hours of the night but together. We are now graduating and starting a new life . . what happens now? We try to keep the love. It's all we can do.

Beth Williams- These sudden ends of time must give us pause. We fray into the future rarely wrought save in the tapestries of afterthought- Wilbur Keith Williams- All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy . . And the Jacks definitely do not start here!!

Terri Winegart- Fiddago #1

Jeff Woods- "Where will I be in ten years? Definitely not in a place with us many friendly faces as this school has shown me."

Kay Wu- The mind is its own place, and in itself can make a Heaven of Hell, a Hell of Heaven. -J.M.

Fabian Zeller- I love you all, so please keep in touch, and don't ever forget me — Fabulous Fabe.

SECOND STORY

In August of 1984, the second class of the Louisiana School for Math Science and the Arts arrived. More new faces from around the state joined to formulate a larger family, discover new ideals and continue the construction of this valuable school for the gifted and talented. These juniors, although unfamiliar with their surroundings, adjusted to being known as the second story in a long line of classes to come.

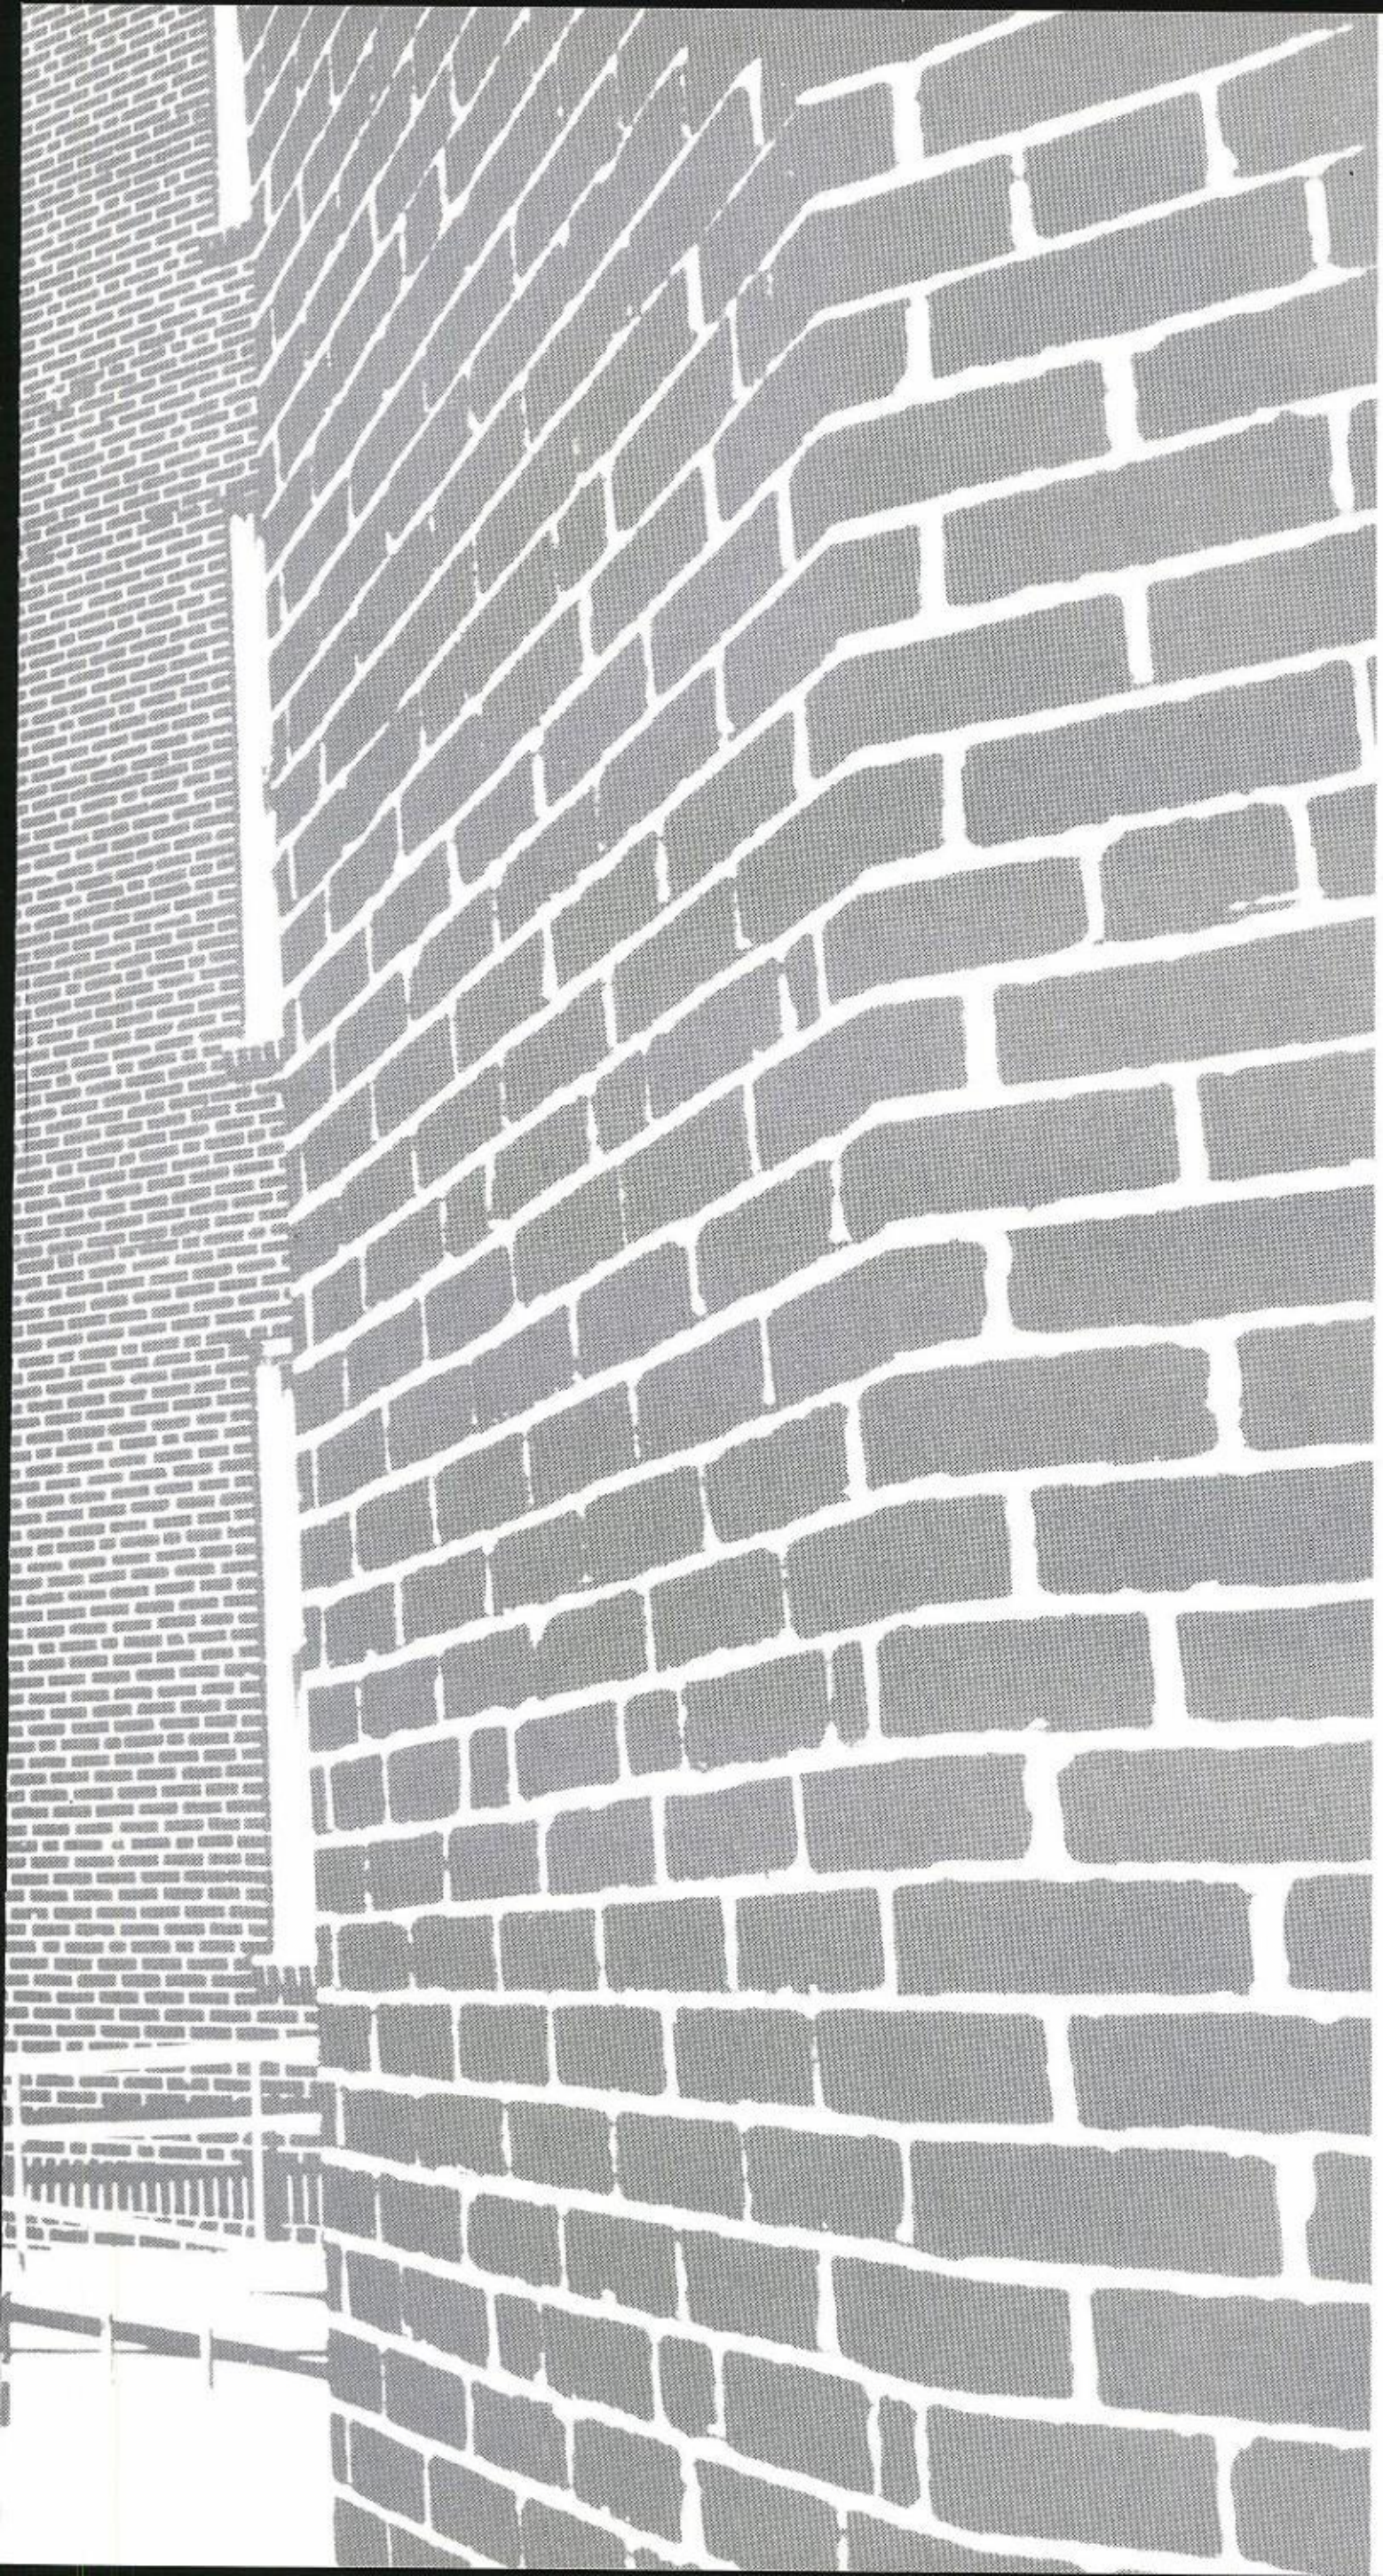
FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION



To dream a dream is a simple thing. It takes neither effort nor sacrifice nor dedication. It requires no compromise, no sharing and no assistance. But to make a dream come true, that is a much greater thing to try to do. Where do we start? How do we proceed? Where are there others who would share this dream?

Traditionally in this nation, education has been the hope of the masses - the avenue upward for all people who wish to better themselves. Public education today is not held in high regard. We see numerous programs and articles pointing out the ills of this endeavor. There are few who are brave enough to venture forth to find solutions to those problems.

I have often said that being at the Louisiana School is by far the most exciting professional thing I have ever done. The opportunity to work with each of you is a professional high. It is indeed my privilege and my pleasure to be associated with such a group. Please accept my heartfelt thanks for this opportunity.

excerpt from article by
Dr. Robert Alost
in Renaissance
Vol. 1 No. 1

Dr. Robert A. Alost
Louisiana School Director
Natchitoches, La.

As Dean of Northwestern State University, Dr. Robert Alost attended the Southern Educators Conference in South Carolina where he first learned of the two North Carolina Schools for Math and Science and for the Arts. After this conference Dr. Alost and Louisiana educators and legislators investigated the possibility of having a similar school in Louisiana. With much work and a lot of support, The Louisiana School for Math, Science & the Arts was created.

Dr. Alost's contagious spirit spread to those whom he had hired to transfer the school from paper to reality, and this fervor of enthusiasm helped to make the school what it is today.

Now, the self-proclaimed workaholic seems to be always on the road or in meetings improving and expanding LSMSA and getting it firmly established in Louisiana education.

FINE ARTS

Dr. Gail Lewis
Departmental Head
Chattanooga, Tn.

The Louisiana School expanded its Fine Arts Department to accommodate the increase in enrollment. With the new junior class and the newly renovated school building came a new faculty and new facilities. The dance studio in the new school building alleviated the long walk to NSU's P.E. Major's Building. The new auditorium provided space for the growth of the Theater Division, and an extra room in Prudhomme Hall made an excellent art studio for after hours work. The A.A. Fredricks Fine Arts Center provides excellent practice rooms for music majors. And the school's new media center became home to those specializing in communications.

Heading this new department was Dr. Gail Lewis, a theater major from Chattanooga, Tennesee.

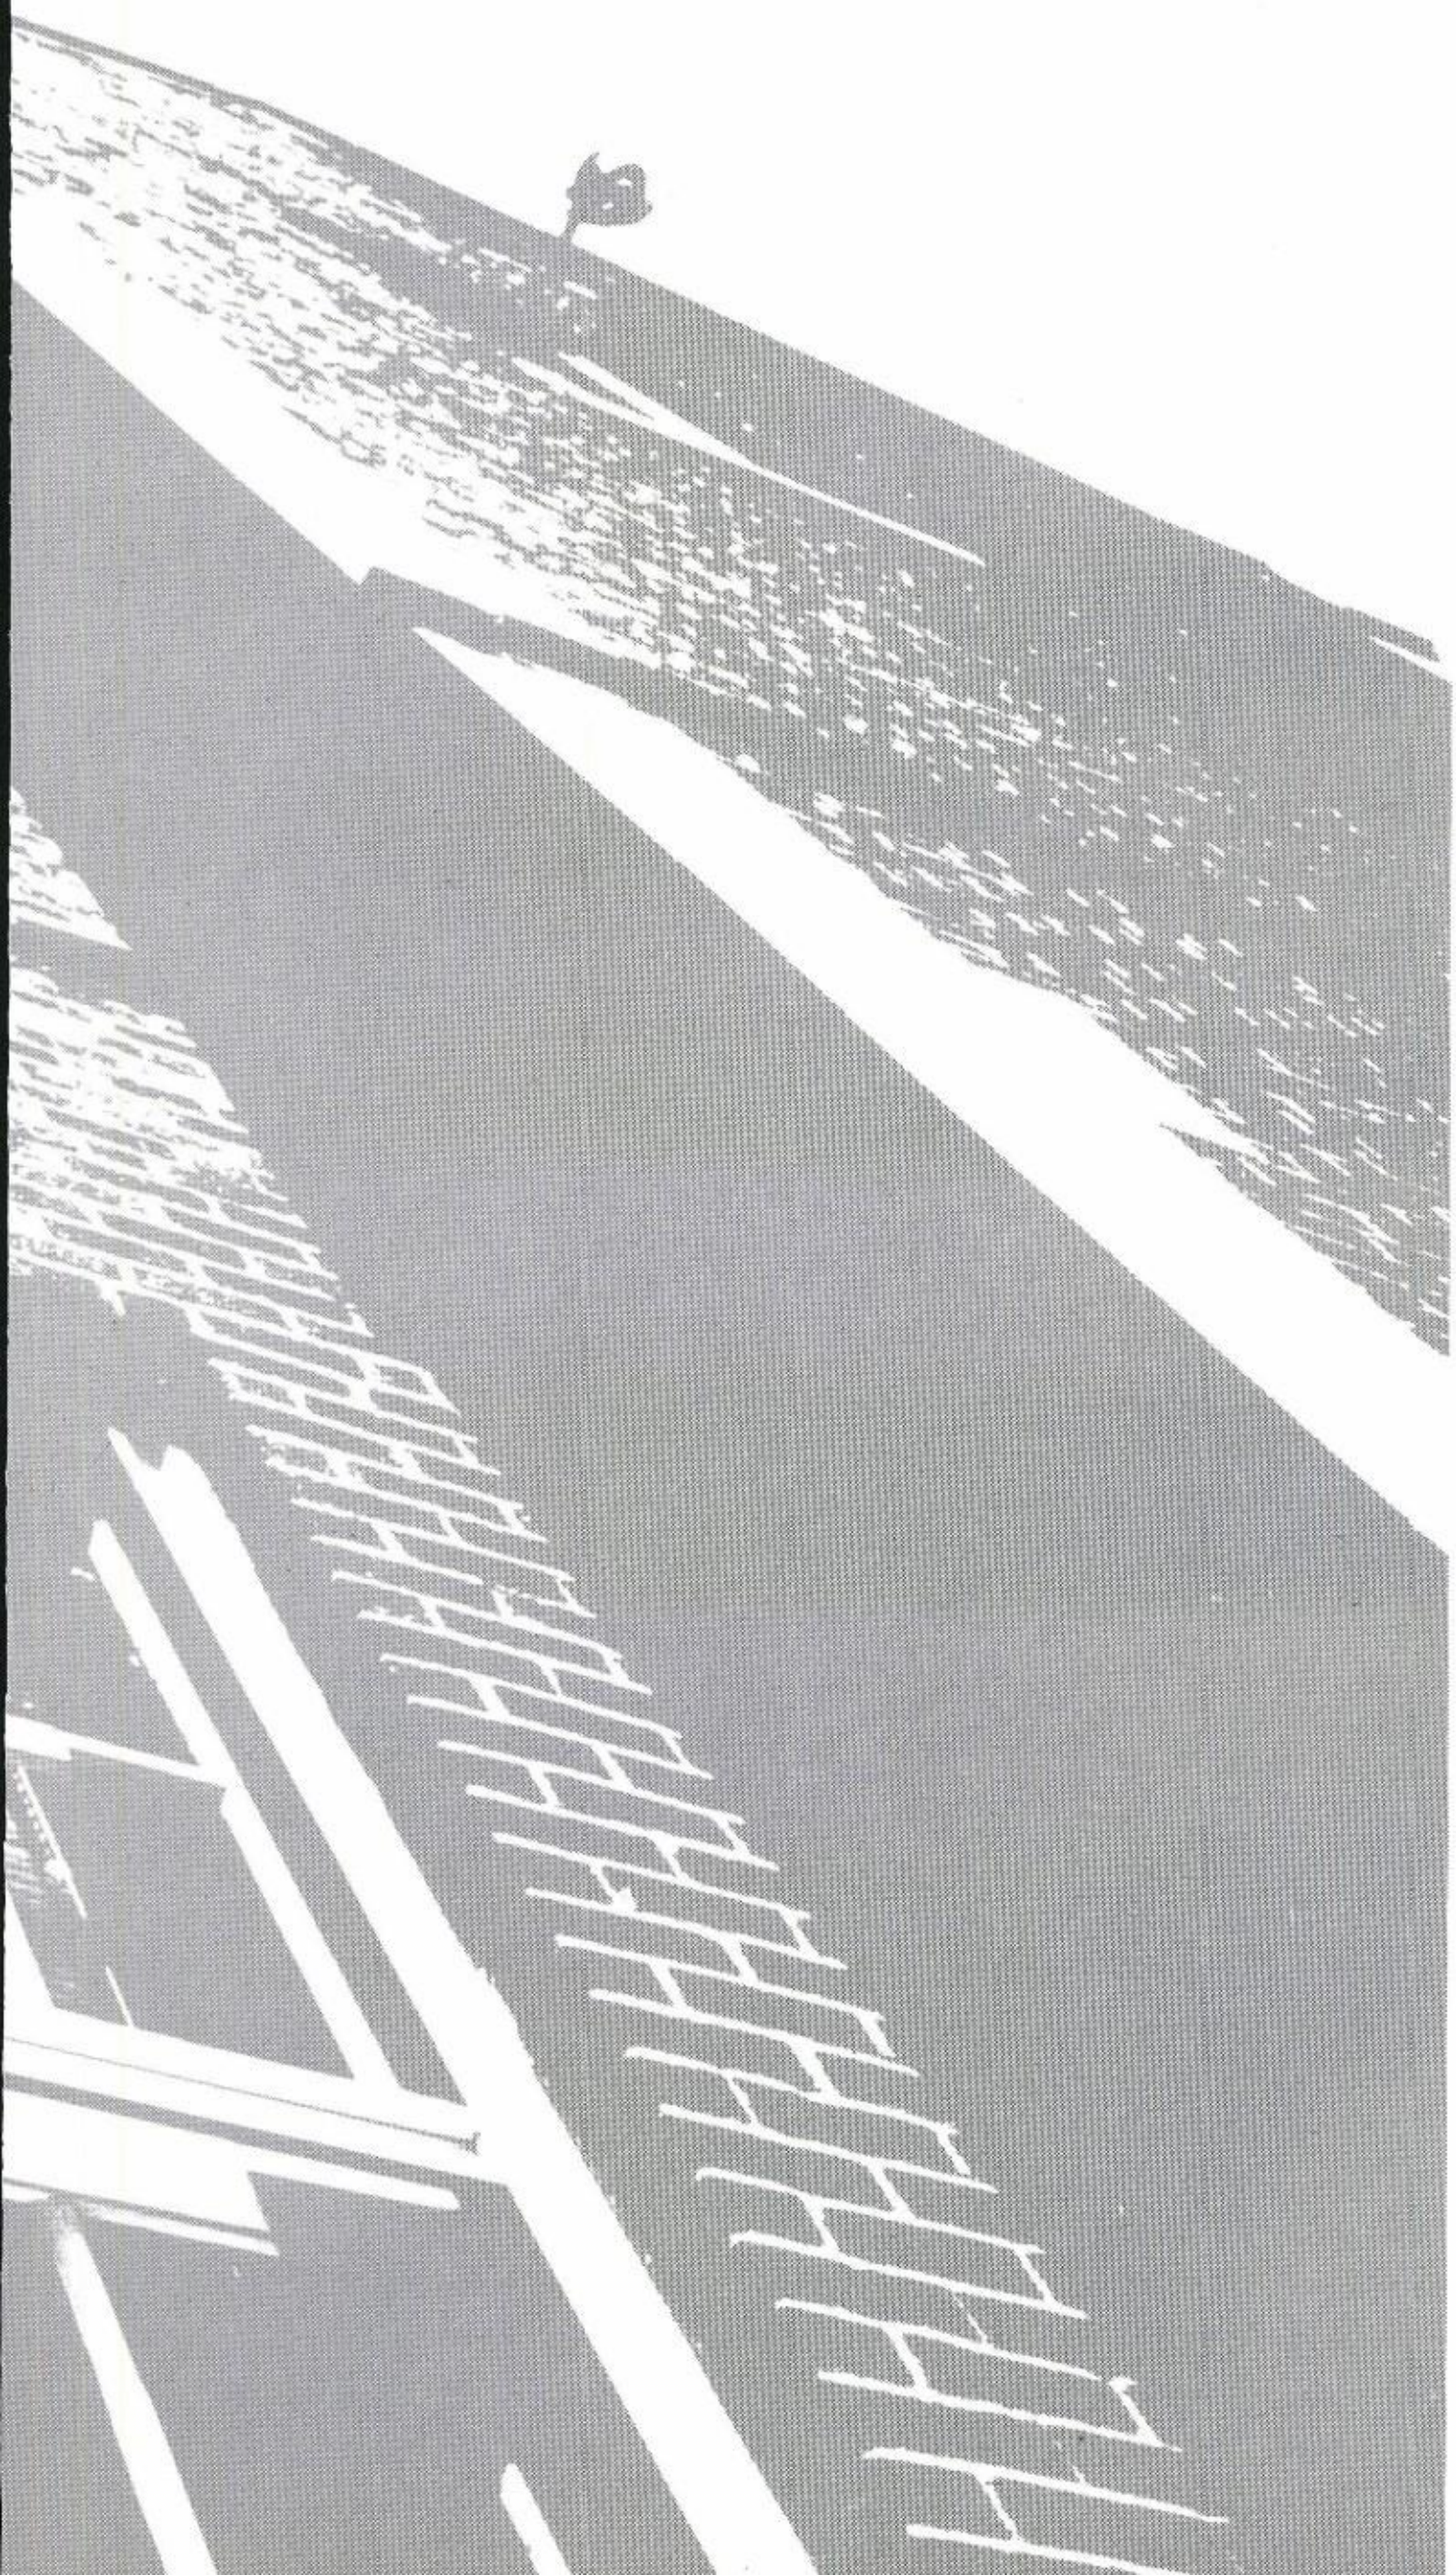
STUDENT ACTIVITIES



Student activities at the Louisiana School range from club activities to dorm meetings, bicycle rides to work service, and cookouts to intramurals. One might think of student activities as student life outside of the classroom; but, at our school we all play a part in student activities.

Clubs and special interest groups are organized by the students. Faculty and staff members who serve as sponsors design activities for enrichment and opportunities for leadership that are available for the student body to take advantage of. The Louisiana School offers some form of activity for every student. Participation in student activities augments classroom activities as well as provides an important link between students and faculty and staff. Student activities is one of tbe many facets of the students' educational experiences offered by the Louisiana School.

Dr. Sharon Sturdivant,
Student Activities
Coordinator

GRAND OPENING 1984

The Grand Opening ceremony of 1984 (not to be confused with the Grand Opening of 1983) occurred on October 4. The Grand opening, honoring the opening of La. School's new school building, drew visitors from across the state. The Honorable Governor Edwin Edwards delivered a speech on the superiority of the school and on NSU's Centennial Celebration. Dr. Alost, Mr. Powell, and Senator Russell Long also delivered speeches before Governor Edwards cut the ribbon.

A group of officials, including Representative Jimmy Long, Dr. Joseph Orze (president of NSU), and Senator Don Kelley watched Governor Edwards cut the ribbon.

Building Dedication Today

Gov. Edwin Edwards To Cut Ribbon At Ceremony

By Craig Kelly

The academic and administrative building for the Louisiana School for Math, Science, and the Arts will be dedicated today, and numerous events are scheduled. To help celebrate the opening of the school building, the Honorable Edwin Edwards, Governor of Louisiana, will head the list of dignitaries participating in the Grand Opening ceremonies.

Activities will begin with an assembly at 9:30 a.m. in the main auditorium of the A.A. Fredericks Fine Arts Building. Dr. Rodney Allen, Professor of Literature at LSMSA, will show slides and tell of his trip to the Himalayas this past summer.

Classes for the remainder of today will be dismissed at 2:00 p.m. Governor Edwards and other dignitaries will be on hand for the dedication and ribbon-cutting ceremony which will take place in front of the school building at 4:00 p.m. An open house and tours of the building will be given from 4:45 to 5:45.

Governor Edwards will also present a plaque to Northwestern State University commerating its one hundredth anniversary.

Grand Opening With Edwards

By Diana Foisy
And Craig Kelly

The new academic building for the Louisiana School was officially dedicated Oct. 4. Governor Edwin Edwards, Representative Jimmy Long, LSMSA school board members and other dignitaries attended the event.

Governor Edwards became an honorary student of Louisiana School and was presented a plaque, report card and a LSMSA staff shirt by SGO President Lenny Richoux. Lewis Jones, President of the Natchitoches Parish School Board, also made an honorary student. The ceremony culminated by Edwards' cutting of the ribbon for the new building.

In an interview immediately following the dedication ceremony, Governor Edwards expressed high hopes and expectations for the Louisiana School for Math, Science and the Arts.

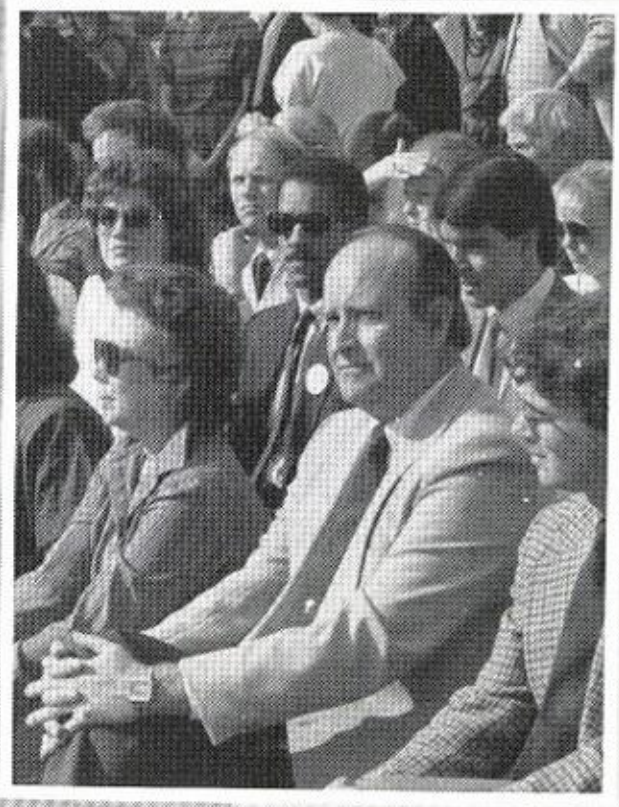
Q) Do you think that Gifted and Talented programs such as the Louisiana School are a necessary part of public education?

A) Yes, I certainly do--just as I feel that there should be special education classes for slow learners and the people who may have some learning disability.

What we need to do is provide a specialized form of education that is tailored to the learning capacities, high or low, of all students.

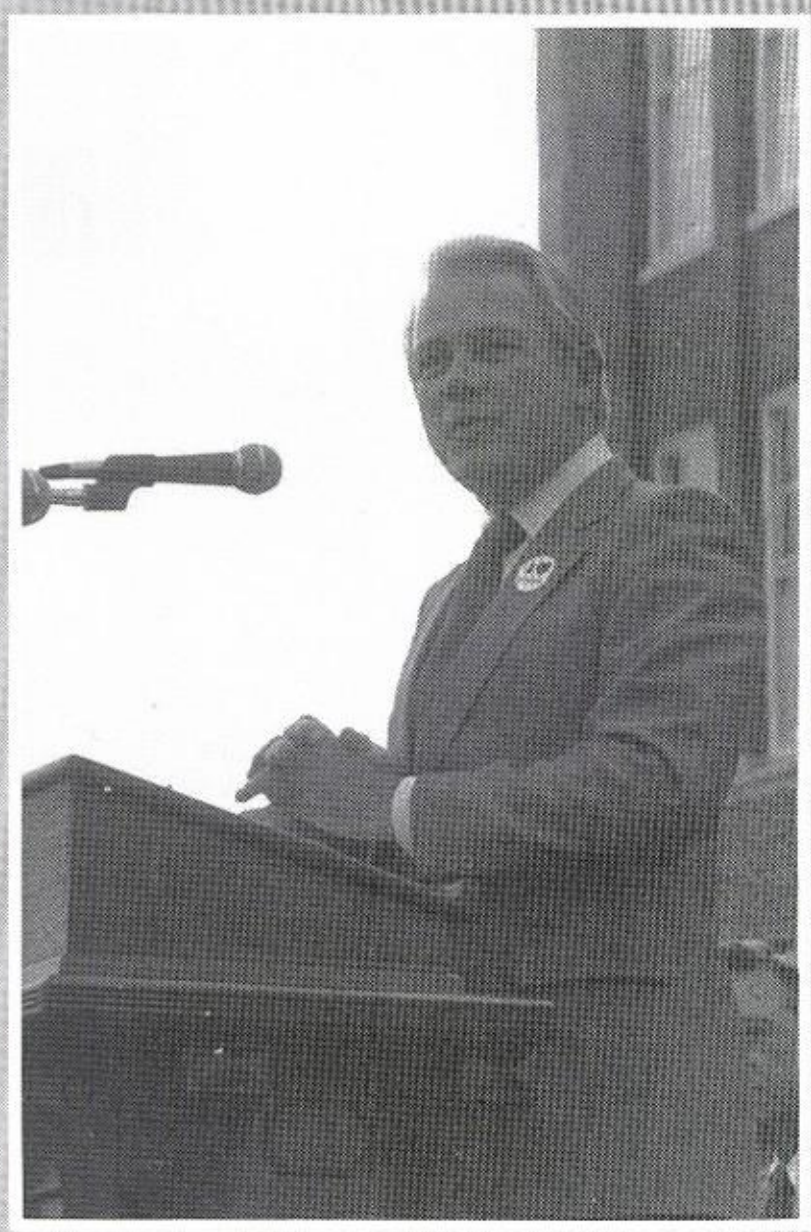
Q) In your opinion, will the Louisiana School have any real effect on the future of Louisiana?

The crowd stood as NSU's ROTC presented the national and state flags.

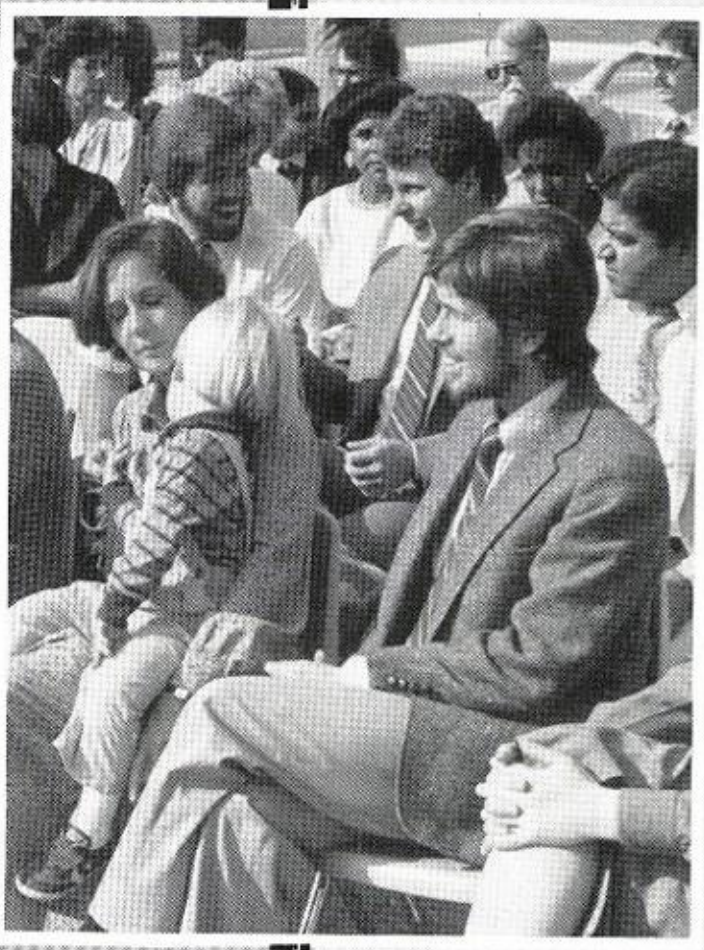


Freddie in the parking lot-minus shades.

emorable events concerning this year's grand opening include the school's desperate at-npt to grow grass in one week, the blinding sun and waves of heat at the ceremony, the battle tween the speaker's microphone and the traffic on College Avenue, and the sudden crack-wn on room inspection due to the extra help needed to prepare the schoolgrounds.



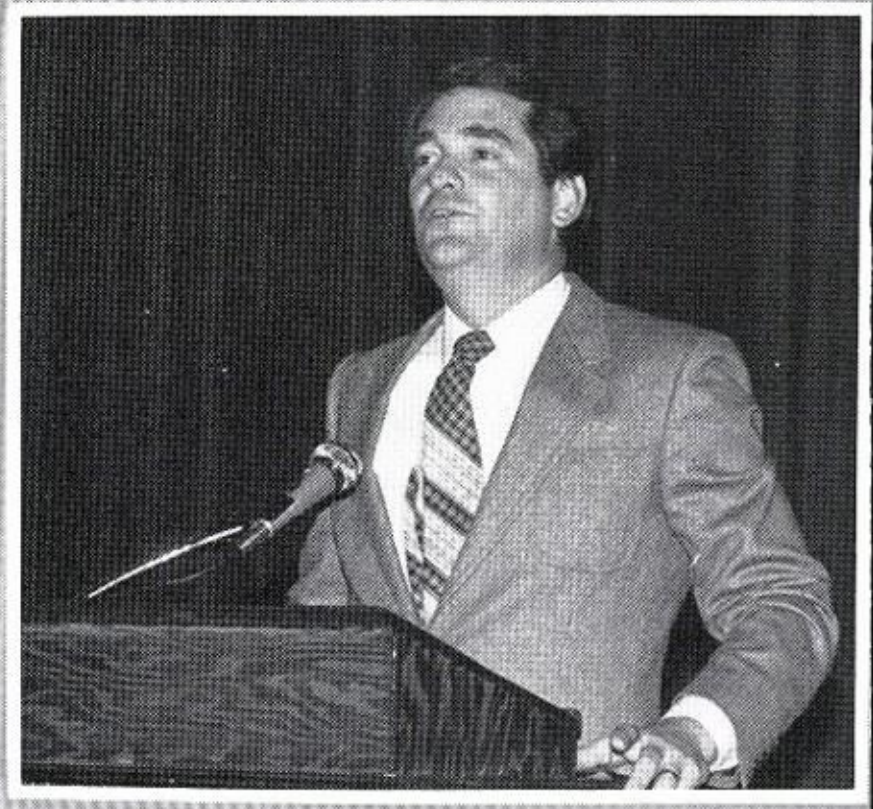
Governor Edwards spoke about his support of the Ls. School and NSU.



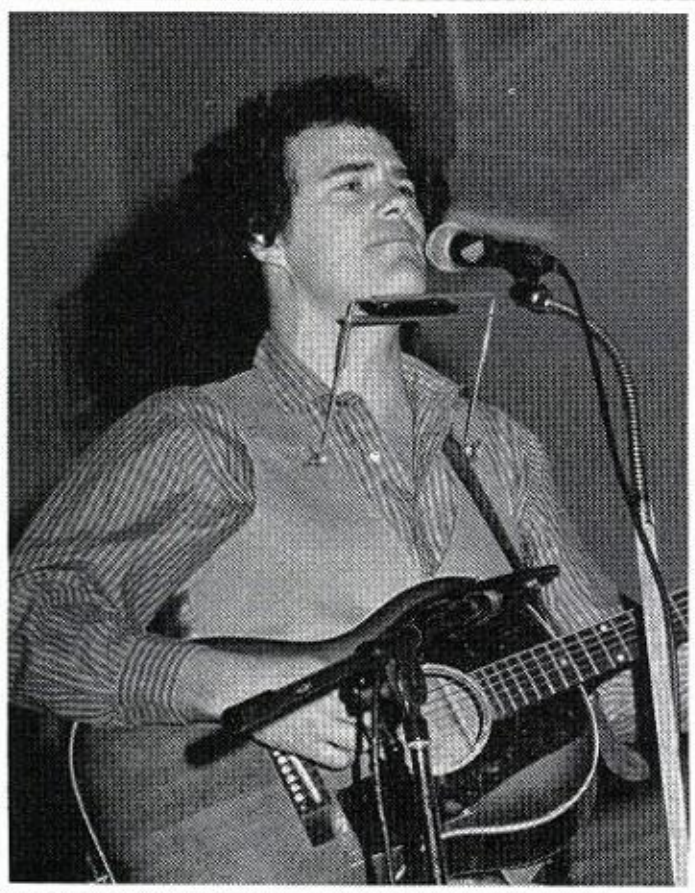
While Terry Flippo and Mike Gibson found the Grand Opening ceremony amusing, Nicholas Ballenger decided squirming in Mom's lap was more interesting than the speakers.

Somebody said it couldn't be done,
But he with a chuckle replied
That maybe it couldn't, but he would be one
Who wouldn't say so 'till he'd tried.
Edgar A. Guest

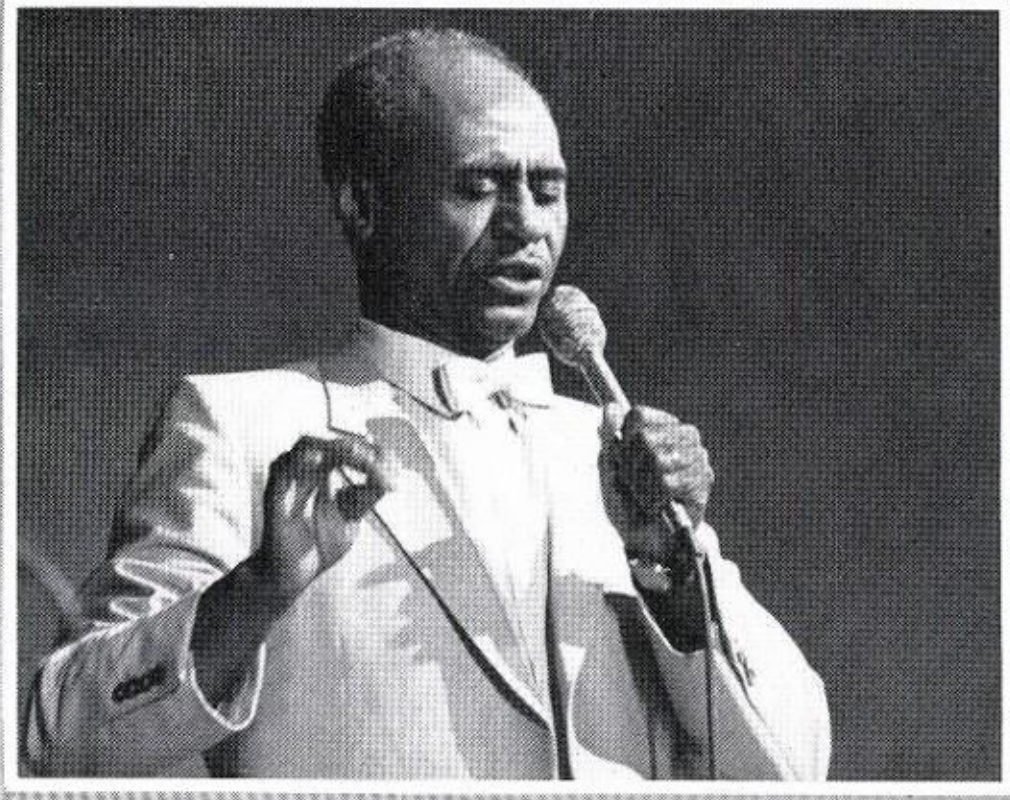
A - As the first speaker this year, he talked about nuclear science.



B - A member of the House of Representatives.



C - "Wild Thing!!"



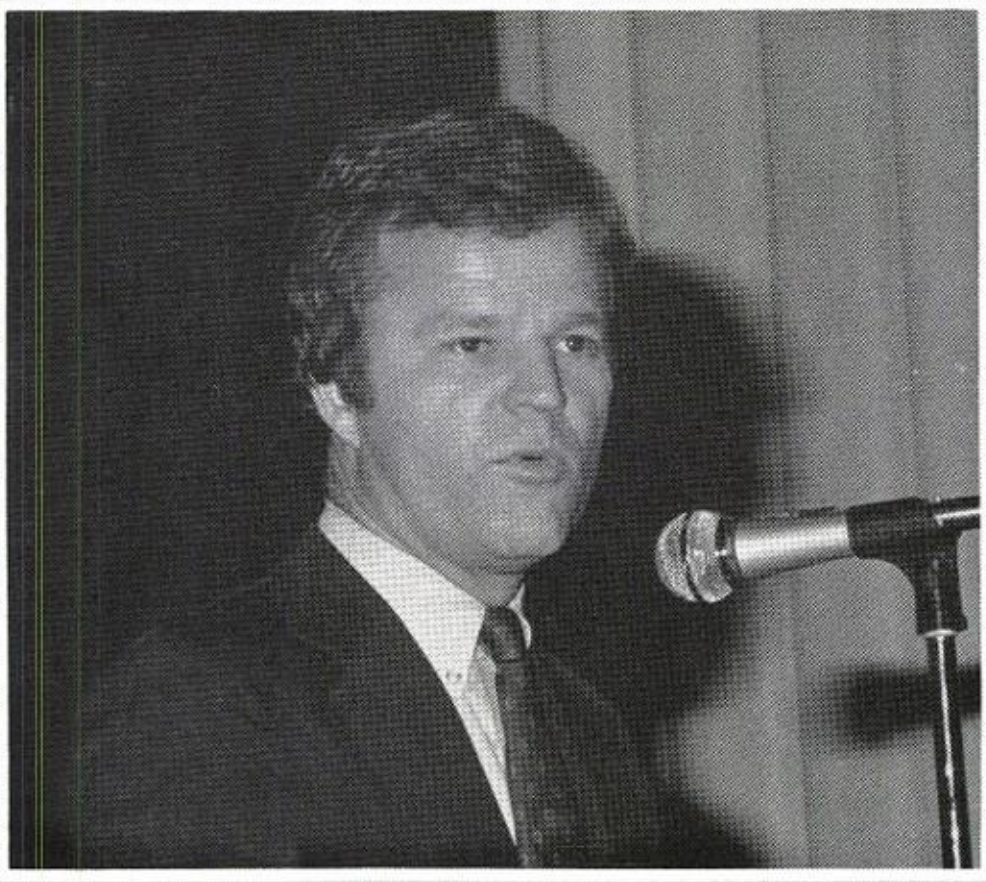
D - An international singer who lived in Paris for 35 years.

E - "Didn't he write a book?"

Louisiana's Supreme decision maker.

" . . . and he ran away to alcohol."

Wasn't he accompanied by a flashy body singer?



Could he be the next governor of Louisiana?

How many assemblies did you attend this year? What we really mean is, at how many assemblies did you not fall asleep? Now's the opportunity to test your memory! We've given you hints . . . good luck!

SPECIAL PROJECTS WEEK - 1985

Special Projects Week was a week of organized group and independent activities. Some of these activities were extensive trips to England, Canada and New York while others were nearer to home such as a tour of Vicksburg, a medical tour of Houston, Texas and an assortment of school-based activities. This week was created for our students to further enhance their educational experiences and to enable them to a creative break from their mundane school schedules.

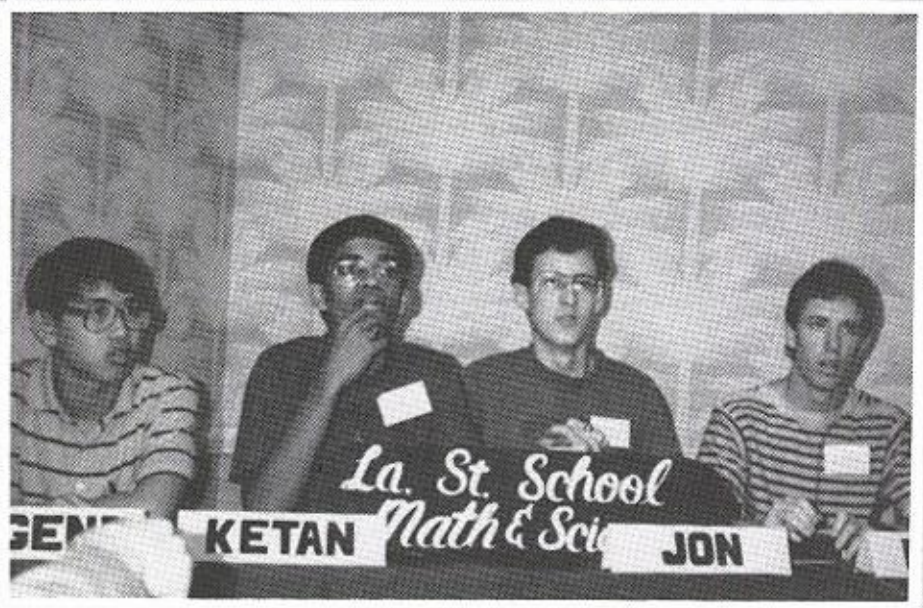
Sean's special project was an independent study with Dr. Wood in French.

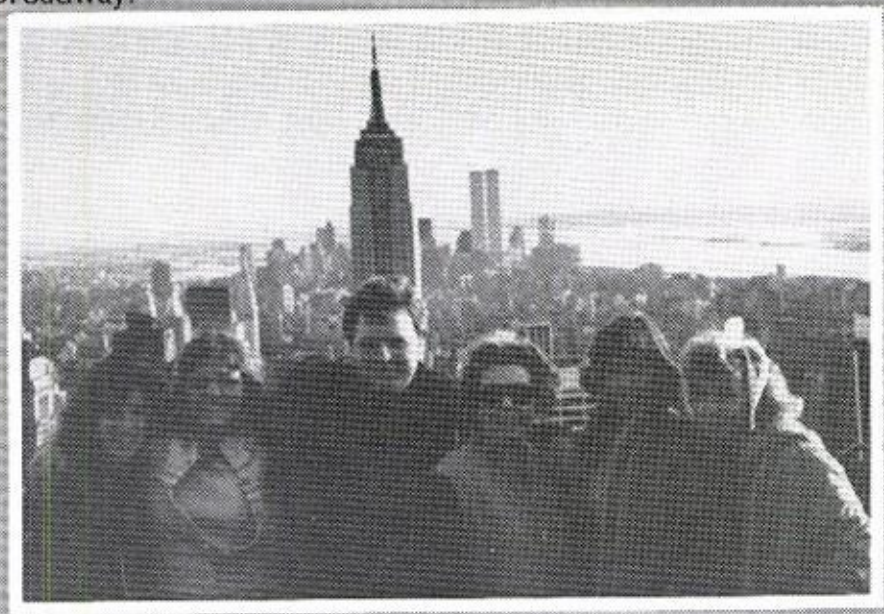


Eugene, Ketan, Jon and David attend a Quiz Bowl meet.

Norma, Myrna S., Ann, Mark, Julie and Claire enjoyed the sights and sounds of New York, including the highly acclaimed play "Cats" on Broadway.

While many of our students were attending and observing the many fine actors and plays of New York during Special Projects Week, the future actors of LSMSA were creating their own shows and plays for their own audiences. These students put forth many hours of work and determination to reach goals of inspiration and perfection through their acting. They pride themselves on their talents and creativity; working together to see their goals.

Claire and John are "acting up" for their audiences.



Our New York crew pose on top of New York!

Myrna S. . . . . , acting instructor, has become an inspiration and dear friend to all the actors of LSMSA through her persistancy and strong dedication to the art of acting.

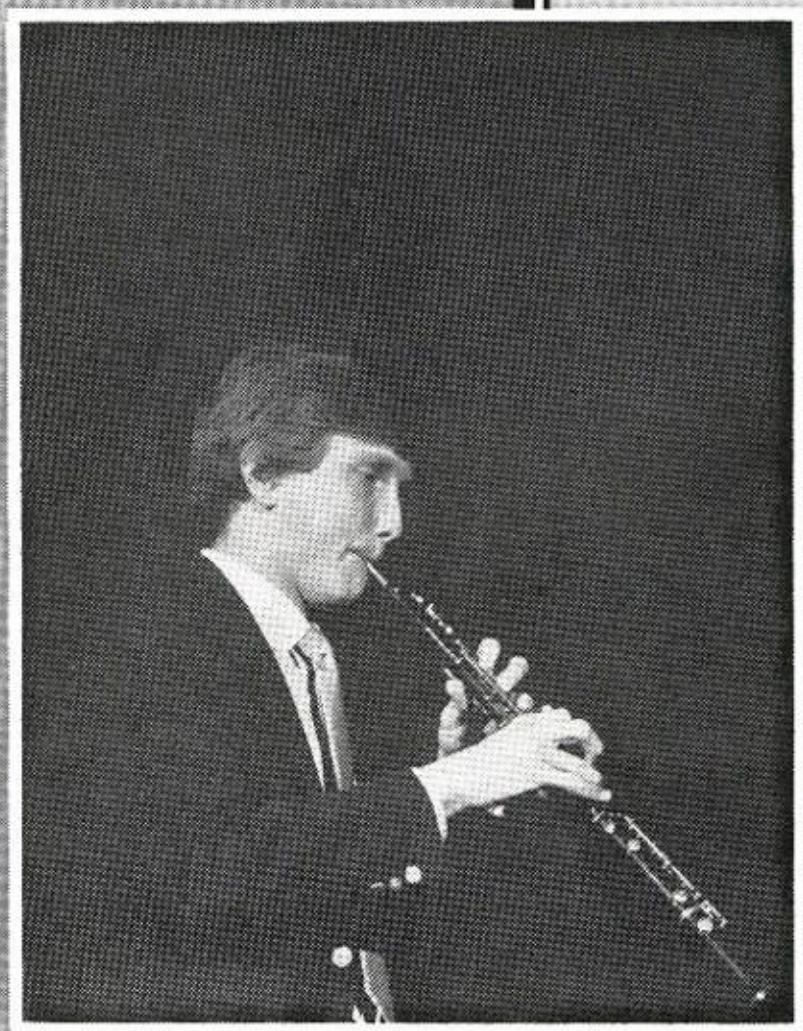
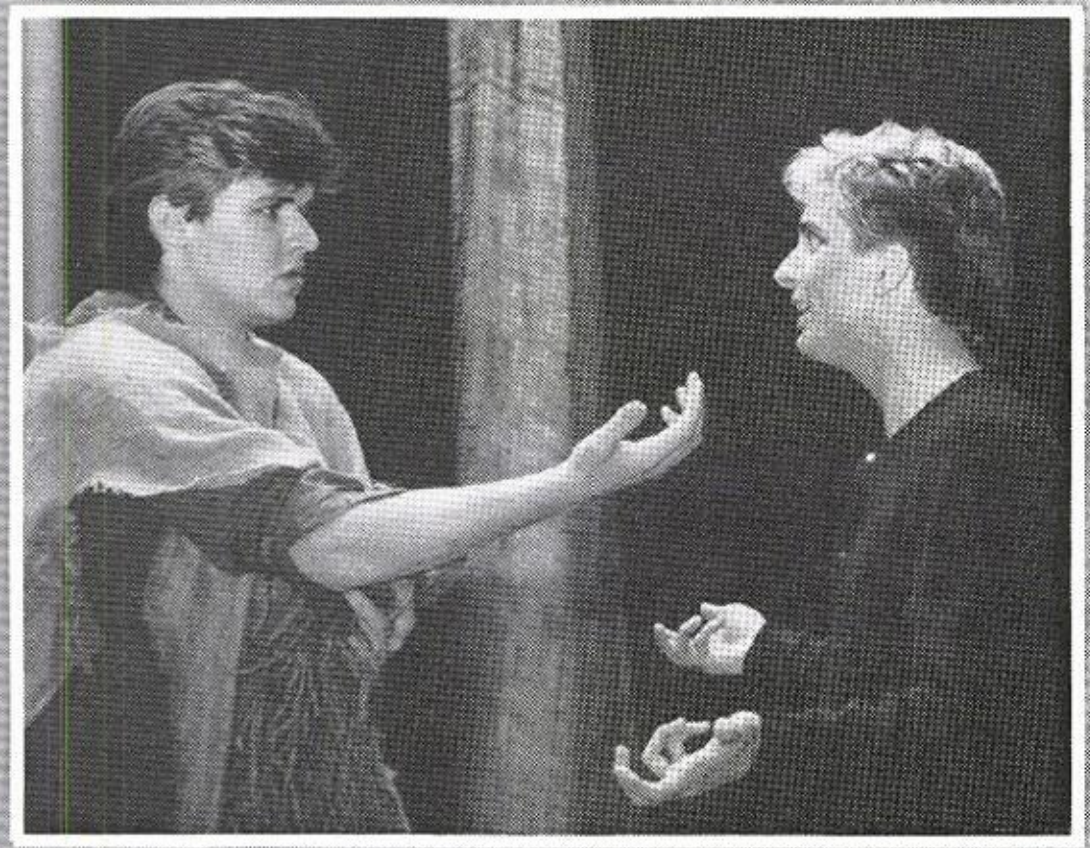
Zoe Dyle played in a master class with Timothy Malosh, the principal flutist with the New York Opera Company's Symphony. In a master class, students play prepared pieces and the person who holds the classes, critiques the performance, generally tearing apart the work.

Brian Bolt and his oboe performed for the student body in a required assembly. The program featured pianists, vocalists, and instrumentalists.





Stephen Speights played J.B. and Harrison Brace played Mr. Nickles, Satan, in the first senior play. "J.B." by Archibad MacLeish. Steve Toliver, (not shown) was cast as Mr. Zues, God. With the exception of one small part, every person connected with the production was a member of the senior class of 1985.

The Louisiana School Chorale, directed by Pam Ellsworth, participated in the First Annual Invitational Honor Choir at the Immaculate Conception Church in Natchitoches. The chorale performed the Schubert Mass in G with the assistance of a small group of NSU string players.

Alfred Barr Jr.

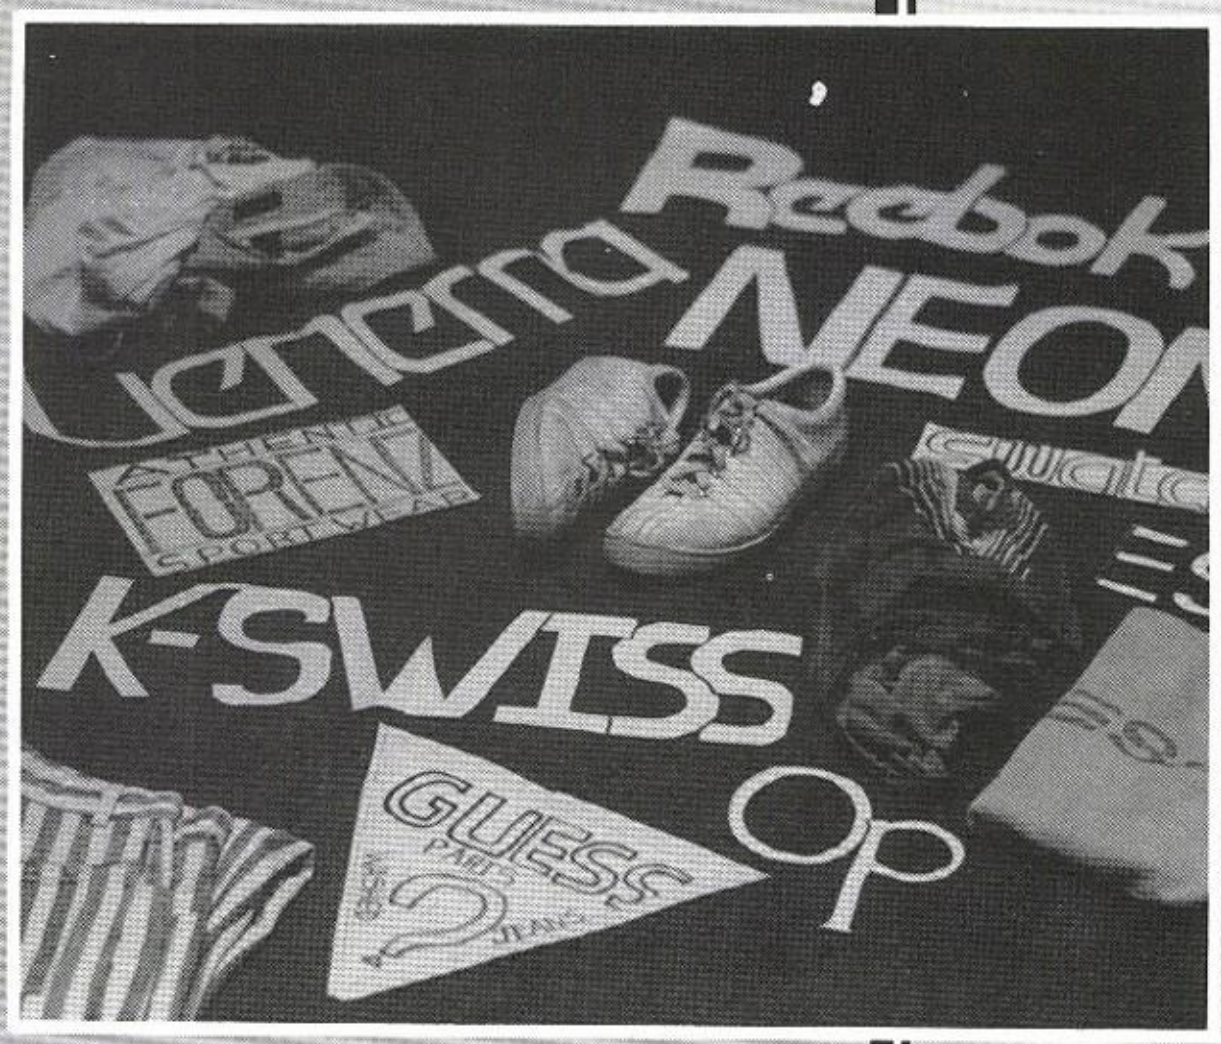
FADS

The Ins And Outs Of 1984-85

Magazines favored and read the most were clothing magazines which had enabled us to keep up with current fashions and famous people through personal interviews. These provided relaxing and informal reading outside of our studies.

Throughout our dorms many different tunes could be heard. At the dances, music is what brought us together in an expressive way showing the different appreciations of music. Music provided an escape from our rigorous studies that allowed us to procrastinate these studies.

Fashion is an expression of the self image. Because LSMSA is composed of a varied student body, so is their fashion taste. Clothes ranged from hundred dollar designer suits and dresses to two dollar sweatshirts and shorts. The current LSMSA fashion trend was determined by class schedules and seasonal conditions. It was no surprise to see anything out of the ordinary. We dressed punk to funk; modern to conservative. We wore it all!



Yeh! We had achieved early admissions into "Freshmen Fifteen" syndrome! We had not only advanced our academic standings, our social outlooks but our waistlines as well. Because of Domino's Pizza, after months of "roach" deliberation, it had become a multi-million pizza business. Braving death threats by the locals, we chanced it all in order to obtain that glorious "Big Mac" and/or "Whopper" to suffice for PFM. And with burning the midnight oil came cases of diet and regular coke to fulfill our caffeine needs. Yes, we could have definitely reassured our parents that we were eating "well-balanced"!

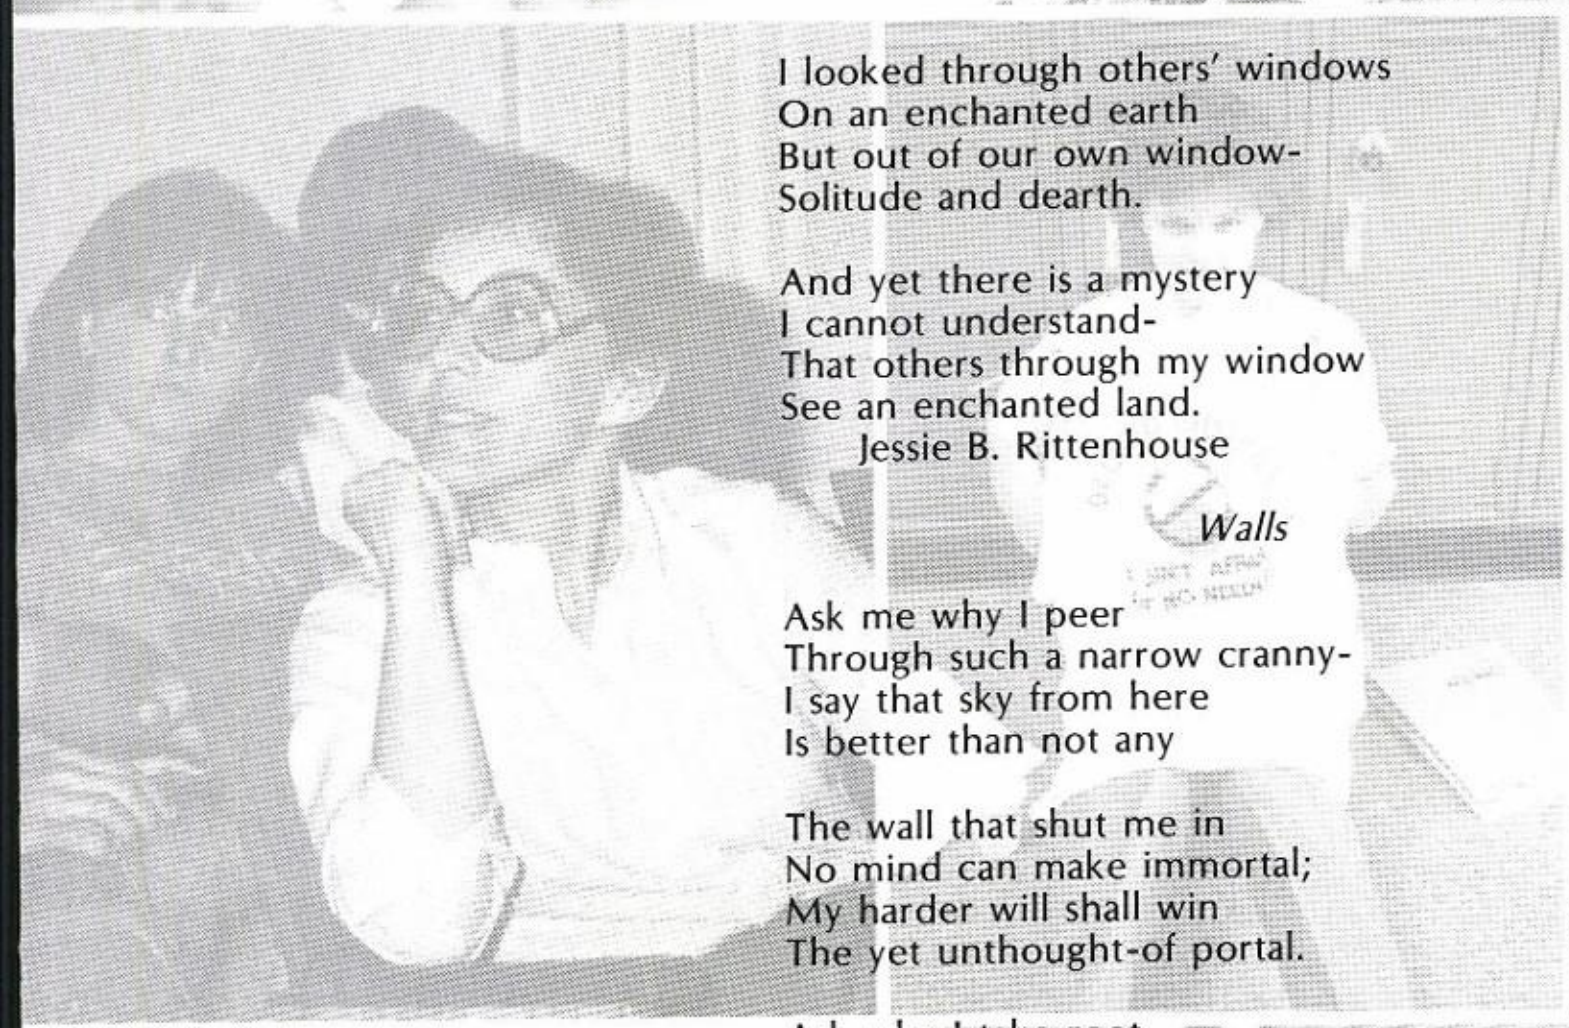
Windows

I looked through others' windows
On an enchanted earth
But out of our own window-
Solitude and dearth.

And yet there is a mystery
I cannot understand-
That others through my window
See an enchanted land.
Jessie B. Rittenhouse



Walls

Ask me why I peer
Through such a narrow cranny-
I say that sky from here
Is better than not any

The wall that shut me in
No mind can make immortal;
My harder will shall win
The yet unthought-of portal.

Ask why I take root
Where nothing green is growing-
I say that seed and shoot
Follow the mad wind's sowing;

But where these live roots turn
And thrust, no wall may block:
Tendril of frailest fern
Can split a rock.
Marjorie Meeker

SPORTS AND INTRAMURALS

It looked extremely rocky for the Mudville nine that day;
The score stood two to four,
with but one inning left to play . . .

There was ease in Casey's manner as he stepped into his place,
There was pride in Casey's bearing and a smile on Casey's face; . . .

The sneer is gone from Casey's lips, his teeth are clenched in hate,
He pounds with cruel vengeance his bat upon the plate;
And now the pitcher holds the ball, and now he lets it go,
And now the air is shattered
by the force of Casey's blow.

Oh, somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright,
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere
hearts are light;
And somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere
children shout,
But there is no joy in Mud-ville-Mighty Casey has struck out.

Excerpt from "Casey at the Bat" by Ernest
Lawrence Thayer

Top: Intramural participants swarmed Boutte's truck for water and equipment. Center: Tedra Wilkins showed her disapproval at Boutee's call. Bottom left: Bill Ebarb slapped another one over Tommy Dantin's head during the faculty/ student volleyball game. Bottom right: Thor Schmidt and James McGuffy positioned themselves for another play.

THE INTRAMURAL PROGRAM is designed to provide a variety of recreational outlets for both athletes and non-athletes. While participation in the program is optional, several positive benefits await those who become involved. Activities offered through the program provide opportunities to engage in individual and team competition, practice good sportmanship, and release tension by staying in shape.

Although the task of providing "something for everyone" is immense, the program strives to include activities of interest to all. Some of the sports provided are: indoor and outdoor swimming, racquetball, badminton, flag football, arm wrestling, volleyball, soccer, tennis, basketball, frisbee, table tennis, and foosball, just to name a few. Both students and faculty/staff members have a chance to become involved either through actual participation in the sport, or through the acts of officiating, drafting players, or organizing equipment for activities.

One thing is sure, if you want to be involved you can be involved. Remember- "It's Live!"

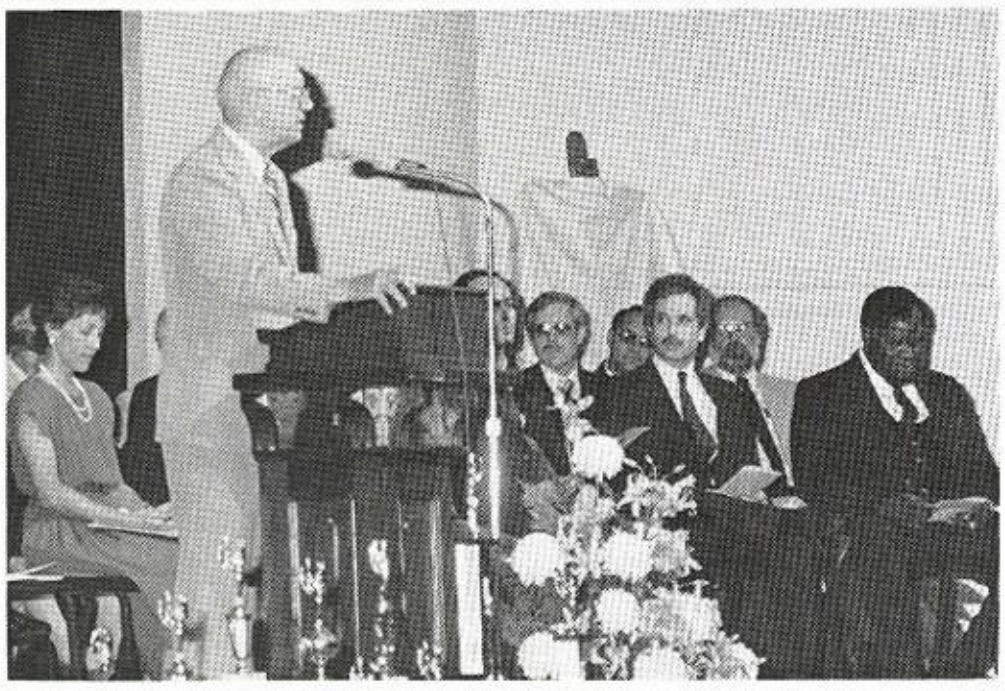
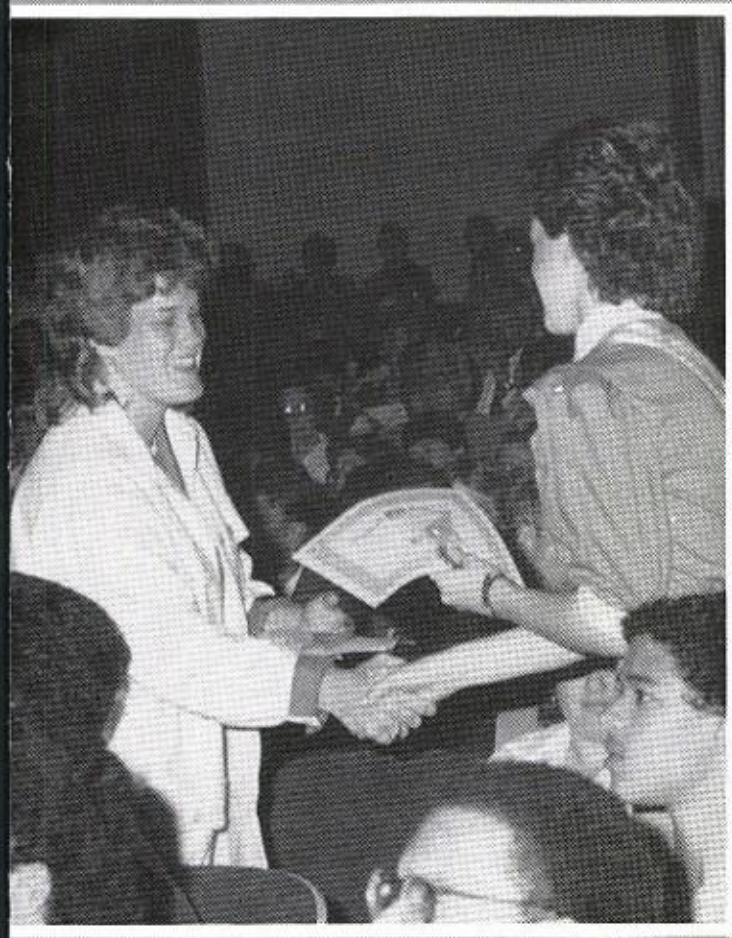
After the seniors had completed the week-long "all-nighters" marathon, their final day had arrived with a bang (or should we say 'crash'!) Here, the seniors are seen posed before their spirit banner, presented by the juniors, and are singing their alma mater in recognition of this final achievement.

Seniors, their parents and relatives, faculty and special guests are present for the Honors Banquet dinner.

Mr. Stanley Powell delivered his speech and introduced several of the award recipients.

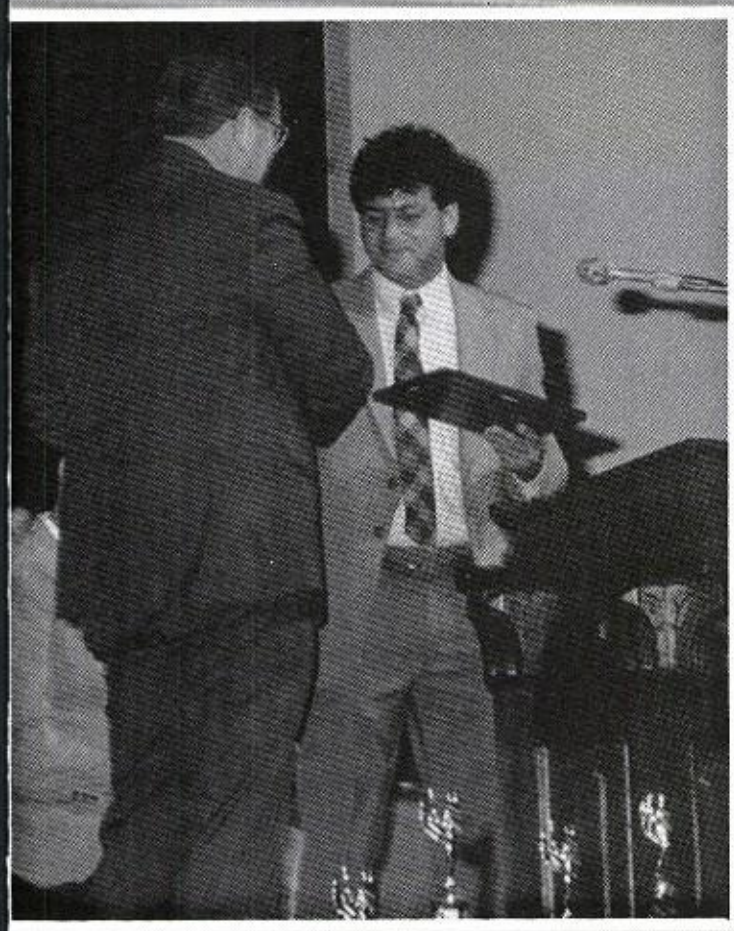


On the evening of May 17th, the senior class received recognition for their two years of hard labor at a three hour awards ceremony held in the A. A. Frederick's Fine Arts Auditorium. Mr. Stanley Powell, Master of Ceremonies, opened the program followed by a welcome from Lenny Richoux, SGO President. After the invocation by Reverend Woodson McGuffie, seniors were recognized for everything from their participation on the baseball team to being members of the first Louisiana School Hall of Fame. More than once, every senior was applauded by the crowd of parents, faculty, friends, and staff. After the final award was given, Dr. Robert Alost delivered his closing remarks to the emotional audience. Misty-eyed, the audience had the privilege of listening to Mr. Earl Taylor Sr. sing "You'll Never Walk Alone" following his benediction. Easing the seriousness of the evening's presentations, the seniors celebrated in the Holiday Inn at the party sponsored by their parents and the SGO.

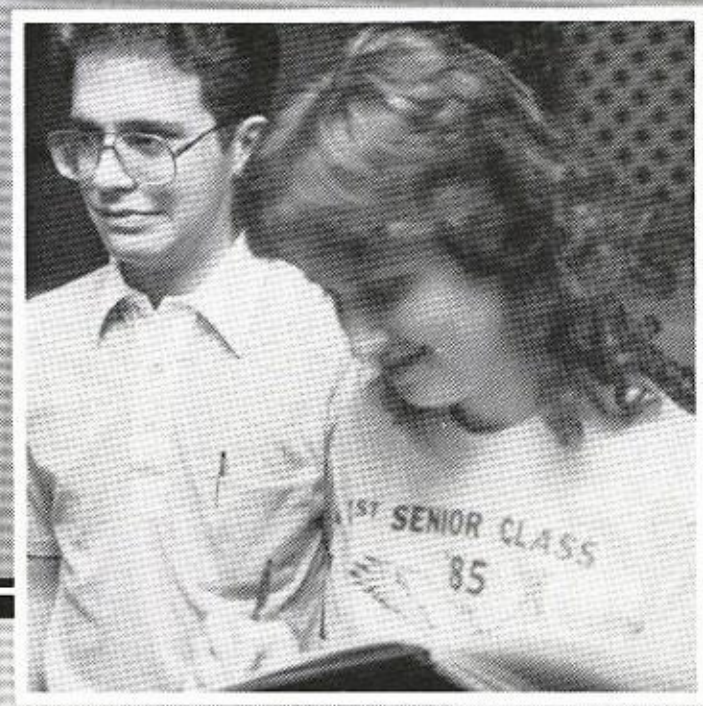


Marla Scott received one of the many awards presented at the Honors Banquet.

Truong Van received the 1st "Spirit of the Louisiana School" award in recognition of his dedication to the school.



Mike Landry is being presented an award by Dr. Alost.



Gordon's a little unsure of what Kelly is writing in his book!

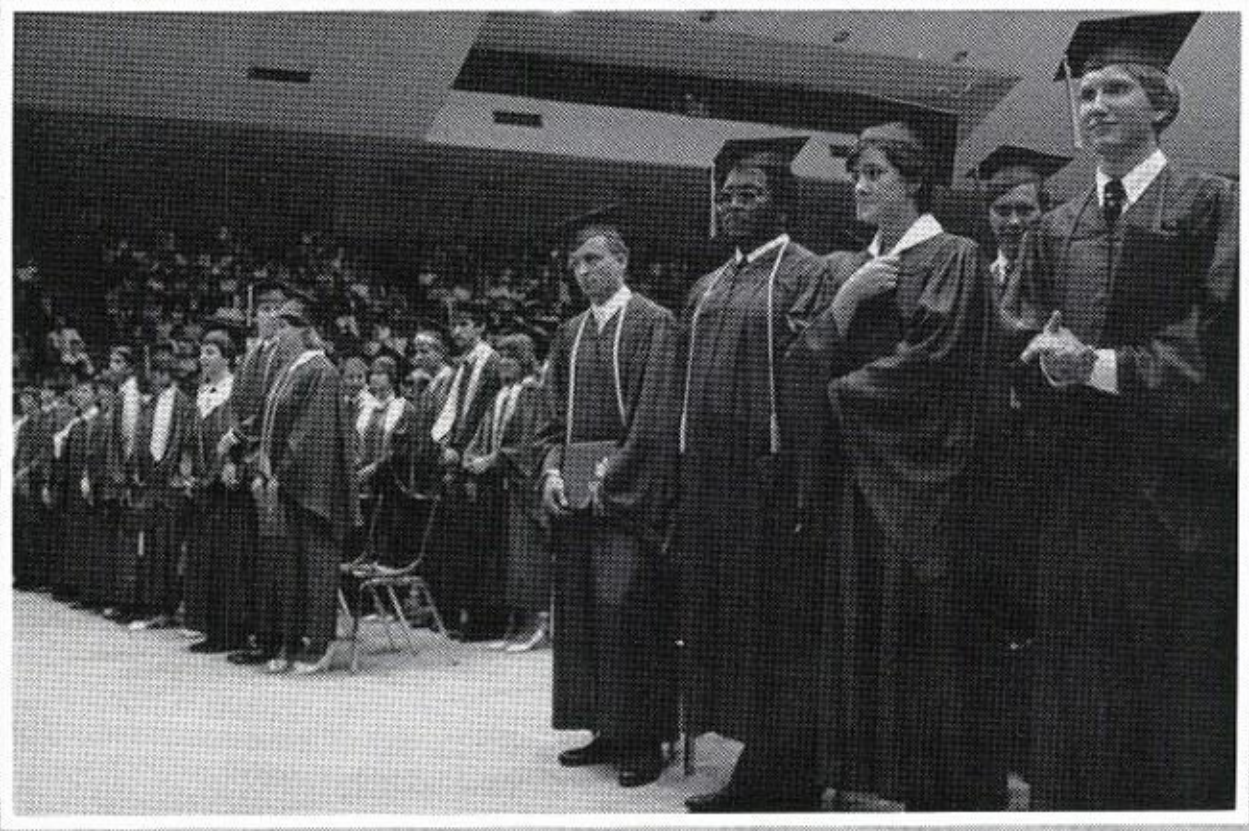
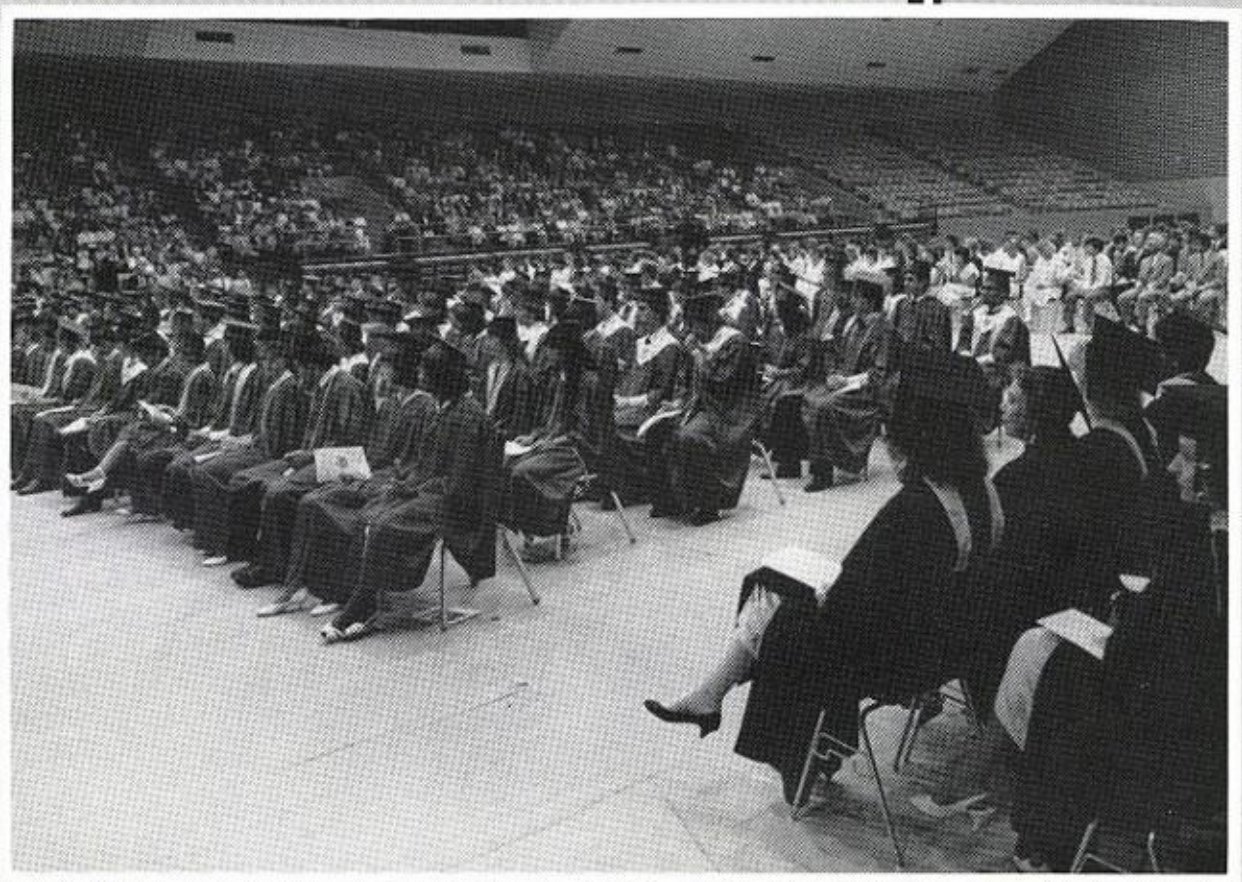
Dr. Alost addresses the 1st graduating class of the Louisiana School.

One hundred and seventy-two seniors marched into Prather Coliseum at 10:00 am Saturday morning, May 18th for commencement excercises. After the National Athem, Tam Vuong led the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance, Kayla Reinhardt sang "The Lord's Prayer", and Dr. Robert Alost welcomed the audience of parents, relatives, friends, and faculty. Members of the graduating class who were selected through auditions gave their addresses as follows: Maureen Mercadel, "Excellence in Education"; Rachal Carner, "A Community of Scholars"; Susie Rosenthal, "A Commencement of Hope". Tamela Brantley and Stephen Speights accompanied by Lavonya Malveaux led the graduating class in singing "Whatever We Imagine" by James Ingram. Our guest speaker, Respresentative Jimmy Long, delivered his message to the senior class. Then, the moment was at hand. Not wanting to leave Dr. Alost emptyhanded, the seniors exchanged butterscotch lifesafers tied with blue yarn for their long awaited diploma covers. After Dr. Alost's farewell address, Jason McCrory gave the benediction followed by a vocal performance of "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" by Craig Escudé. By the end of the hour and a half long cermony, almost every graduate had made appropriate use of the blue or yellow Kleenix so thoughtfully hidden in their programs. Caps flew into the air before the class unceremoniously filed out of the Coliseum. The ceremony was followed by a reception in the high school building.



The graduating seniors, anxiously and tearfully, await the distribution of their diploma covers.

Representative Jimmy Long, guest speaker, presents his speech to the graduates.



All four vital parts of the Louisiana School were present for this historical event: the faculty and administration, the upper-class seniors, the younger-class juniors and the students' parents.

Jon's big moment; now he's college bound!

The students and Rubicon Staff at the Louisiana School would like to express their appreciation and gratitude to those parents, friends, and businesses who have graciously contributed so much to the success of our yearbook.
